LEPC Meeting Minutes, January 11, 2018

The meeting of the Bradley County Local Emergency Planning Committee (LEPC) was hosted at Wacker Polysilicon on January 11, 2018 at 8:00 AM. in the Fire Department Emergency Operations Center. The meeting was attended by approximately 40+ attendees representing Bradley County industry, EMA, various Bradley County, and Cleveland City staff and representatives from various state agencies. A sign-in roster is available. Refreshments were graciously provided by Wacker Polysilicon. Arrangements for refreshments and use of facility was coordinated by Lisa Mantooh, Wacker Communications and Executive Coordinator.

Presentations

Mary Beth Hudson, Vice President Polysilicon and Site Manager, Charleston, welcomed and gave a presentation to the group that defined the capabilities and a number of products and by-products produced by the facility in Charleston. She also explained how the new construction would use some of the by-products and funnel the result back in to the current product.

Dewayne May, Interim Fire Chief, gave a presentation on the organization and capabilities of the Wacker Fire Department.

Reading and Approval of Minutes/Updates:

Curtis Cline, LEPC Chairman again welcomed committee members to the meeting. Mr. Cline mentioned the minutes were published in the LPEC Newsletter. The committee approved the minutes.

Mr. Cline introduced and made available a new membership form to be completed and returned by those are interested in being a formal member of the LEPC.

He also informed the group that he had revised the LEPC By-Laws and would be making those available to the group to review and offer opinion and/or corrections so the LPEC would be able to vote on those at the next meeting.

Mr. Cline concluded the official meeting with thanks to the Wacker Group for hosting the meeting. He also invited all to host the LEPC meeting at your facility with a tour and/or let us know about a topic or project you would be interested in. LEPC is always open to having your organization present a topic of interest to the group. If you would like to offer a suggestion, contact Curtis Cline at (423) 464-0223.

The meeting was adjourned with a tour of the Wacker Fire Department facility.
